

2015 Schooler Nolan Red Mountain Malbec

Don't think Argentina jammy think Cahors France, but juicy. The wine has a great blackish color and those ever evolving dark berry overtones-The palate is full bodied from the beginning to a long and well structured finish. This wine has all the great French oak barrel spices-smoke, toasted carmel and a wonderful tannin structure. This Malbec was sampled in January 2018, it's just starting an excellent journey. This bottle drinks very well now and will for the next 10 years.
